Digital Infusion is a web agency that is developing individual software and websites for clients in the health sector. Our goal is to enable clinics, practices and doctors to offer their patients the best support digitally possible. For this we are working closely together with our parent company samedi GmbH.

We are looking for a

(Senior) Engineer (f/m/d)

Join our team as an engineer and take on tasks and responsibility for our core product as well as custom web projects.

We're looking for an experienced, team-oriented, competent and self-driven developer who is open for new technologies and challenges.

Your area of responsibility includes:
- Long-term development, improvement and maintenance of our product
- Maintenance and further development of CMS-based websites
- Conception and implementation of new features or custom projects
- Code Reviews, documentation and refactoring

You'll work closely with our project managers, engineering, web design and DevOps colleagues to build web apps, websites and custom web solutions for our customers.

At Digital Infusion you'll find a highly motivated team, kind colleagues and open communication. Flat hierarchy and familial atmosphere aren't just buzzwords for us.

Our standard of quality is high, we want to ship only the best product to our customer. We expect you to have the same aspiration. Nonetheless to err is human and we know that. We work together as a team and help each other to get the best results.

We offer you:
- An attractive position with various possibilities to advance your personal development in an expanding company
- A fast-acting and creative team that works with a lot of passion and fun to realize new ideas to fundamentally improve the healthcare sector for doctors and patients
- Familiar corporate atmosphere with team-events, Monday morning breakfast to start the week, weekly ping pong matches and more
- Part-time childcare and support for a healthy work-life-balance

Our office is located in Berlin Friedrichshain – close to public transport as well as a lot of fine lunch options.

Our tools & tech stack:
- Gitlab, JIRA
- Vue.js, FoalTS, Node.js (Express.js)
- Craft CMS, WordPress, Typo 3
- Docker, AWS

Have you become curious about Digital Infusion?
Please send your application to hr@digital-infusion.de